PUBLISH

THE MOST COMPLETE WORK OF ITS KIND.

The Fireside Encyclopædia of Poetry.

Collected and arranged by HENRY T. COATES. Imperial 8vo, cloth extra, gilt side and edges, $5; half calf, gilt, $7.50; half morocco, antique, gilt top, $7.50; turkey morocco, antique, full gilt edges, $10; tree calf, $12.

"Cyclopædias of poetry are numerous, but for sterling value of its contents, for the library or as a book of reference, no work of the kind will compare with this admirable volume of Mr. Coates." It takes the gems from many volumes, culling with rare skill and judgment."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

NEW WORLD EDITION.

Waverley Novels.

Complete in twelve vols. Fully illustrated. Large 12mo, cloth extra, price per vol., $1; per set, $12.

This is the best, cheapest, and largest type edition of the Waverley Novels in the market. The extreme legibility of the type, which is larger than is used in any other edition, English or American, its spirited illustrations, quality of the paper and binding, and the low price at which it is offered, make it by far the cheapest and most salable edition ever offered.

NEW WORLD EDITION.

Dickens' Complete Works.

Complete in seven vols. Illustrated by F. O. C. Darley, Cruikshank, Fildes, Eytinge, and others. Large 12mo, cloth extra, price per vol., $1.25; per set, $8.75.

This is the best and cheapest edition of Dickens in the market. The convenient size of the volumes, the quality of the paper, and the substantial and handsome manner in which they are bound, as well as the extremely low price at which they are offered, make this the most desirable edition of the works of the great novelist ever offered to the trade.

NEW POPULAR EDITION.

Macaulay's History of England.

New Popular Edition, printed from new electrotypes plates. Five vols., large 12mo, cloth extra per set, $3.75.

This edition has been thoroughly revised, and is by far the most correct as well as the best and cheapest in the market.

A. C. ARMSTRONG & SON

Have the pleasure of announcing that they will have ready for publication on Saturday, Feb. 14th,

A NEW UNABRIDGED EDITION OF HALLAM'S WORKS,

COMPRISING

THE CONSTITUTIONAL HISTORY OF ENGLAND, - - -	2 Vols.
THE MIDDLE AGES—The State of Europe during the Middle Ages, -	2 Vols.
INTRODUCTION TO THE LITERATURE OF EUROPE, - - -	2 Vols.

This new issue of HALLAM'S COMPLETE WORKS, reprinted FROM THE LAST LONDON EDITION, REVISED AND CORRECTED BY THE AUTHOR, is the most accurate and reliable edition published.

We cannot better introduce it in this form to the American Public than by the quotation of MACAULAY'S FAMOUS ESTIMATE of their author :

"Mr. Hallam is, on the whole, far better qualified than any other writer of our time for the office which he has undertaken. He has great industry and great acuteness. His knowledge is extensive, various, and profound. His mind is equally distinguished by the amplitude of its grasp, and by the delicacy of its tact. His speculations have none of that vagueness which is the common fault of political philosophy. On the contrary, they are strikingly practical, and teach us not only the general rule, but the mode of applying it to solve particular cases. . . . Mr. Hallam's work is eminently judicial. Its whole spirit is that of the Bench, not that of the Bar. He sums up with a calm, steady impartiality, turning neither to the right nor to the left, glossing over nothing, exaggerating nothing, while the advocates on both sides are alternately biting their lips to hear their conflicting misstatements and sophism exposed."

As this "STANDARD EDITION" of HALLAM'S WORKS, in Six Vols., AVERAGING NEARLY 800 PAGES IN EACH VOL., is sold at the EXCEEDINGLY LOW PRICE OF $7.50 PER SET (formerly published in 10 Vols. at $17.50), the Publishers confidently believe IT WILL HAVE A LARGE AND STEADY SALE.

NOTES IN SEASON.

LEE & SHEPARD publish this week Daudet's "Kings in Exile," translated from the French by Virginie Champlin, who dedicates her translation to Mr. Geo. P. Lathrop. Very soon Lee & Shepard will publish Conington's prose translation of Virgil, prefaced with an essay sixty-five pages long on the various English translations of Virgil, especially the earlier ones. This is by Mr. Willard Small, who translated Coulange's "Ancient City," and who has remarkable aptitude for mastering facts and details pertaining to the classics, as well as other branches of learning.

JOSEPH COOK's book on "Labor," forming the seventh volume of his Boston Monday lectures, will be published by Houghton, Osgood & Co. about the middle of the month. It discusses so important a subject, and discusses it with so much knowledge and force and in a style so brilliant, that it cannot fail to attract a host of readers. At the same time will appear Henry James' new story, "Confidence," which has already had a very general reading in Scribner's Monthly, but will find a large circle of readers in its new and permanent form. Mr. James is fast becoming one of the authors who must be read.

ROBERTS BROTHERS will have shortly a new edition of Jean Ingelow's poems. It will be called the Home edition, will be a small but tasteful volume about the size of the Diamond poets, and will sell for $1. A new edition of Alger's "History of the Doctrine of a Future Life," with Prof. Ezra Abbot's exhaustive bibliography of the subject, is nearly ready. A second series of "Hours of Thought on Sacred Things," by Rev. James Martineau, of London, is promised at an early day. To those who can appreciate the noblest religious literature, this book is one of the most welcome that could be announced.

P. G. THOMSON, Cincinnati, who is building up quite a list both of local and generally salable books, will presently issue a novel, by W. J. Shaw, under the odd title of "Solomon's Story," which he expects to make no small hit among novel-readers. He has just issued the prospectus also of an elaborate "Bibliography of Ohio," to cover about 1300 titles, with full notes, quoting auction-sales prices, and subject index, promising a highly creditable and valuable volume.

HARPER & BROTHERS send out this week a graphic account of "Sporting Adventures in the Far West," by J. M. Murphy, an English sportsman; "Southey," by Prof. Edw. Dowden, in the English Men of Letters series; a remarkable summary of our knowledge of "The Origin of the Homeric Poems," showing the reasons for the many-authors view, the translation of a lecture by Dr. H. Bonitz; a school edition of Prof. Newcomb's "Astronomy;" Mr. Rolfe's edition of "King Lear;" two stories, "Othello the Second," by F. W. Robinson, and "Golden-Rod," an idyl of Mount Desert, in the Half-Hour series; and the second part of "Mme. Rémusat's Memoirs," and Robert Mackenzie's historical sketch of "The Nineteenth Century," both in the Franklin Square Library.

HALLAM has long held place among the first of the historians, and we are therefore glad to announce the appearance of a new cheap edition of his works, which will bring him anew before the reading public. This edition is the corrected and revised text, unabridged—being, in fact, from the plates of the American library edition—and the statement that it is printed by the Wilsons, at the University Press, Cambridge, is assurance of its typographical excellence. The ten volumes, formerly costing $17.50, are now printed as six, of about 800 pages each (with new indexes), at the low price of $7.50 for the set, two volumes being given to each of his works, the "Constitutional History of England" (the more valuable because May's book continues it to the present time), the "Middle Ages," and the "Introduction to the Literature of Europe." Macaulay's famous judgment of Hallam has helped to make him the standard authority on the topics of the titles above, and the books belong in every library. In making this new departure, presenting this standard series at a price which must insure very large sales, in an edition good throughout in type, print, paper and binding, the publishers have done a wise thing. Messrs. A. C. Armstrong & Son, and, by arrangement with them, Mr. Thomas Y. Crowell, publish the work simultaneously, and in friendly rivalry as to which house shall sell most copies in a given time. The first edition is likely to be early exhausted, so that the trade will be wise to order promptly.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

In this list, the titles in brevier are direct transcriptions from books actually received, according to the rules of the American Library Association; those in nonpareil are from the best information available, and will be repeated in brevier when the book is received for registry.

The notes followed by a number are those which are sent out on printed title-slips, as revised by the Library Association authorities; unless bracketed, which means that they have not yet been so revised. Those not followed by a number are on the sole authority of the WEEKLY, and are not included in the title-slip registry.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: Daniel; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio; over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to; under 30 cm.); O. (8vo; 25 cm.); D. (16mo; 20 cm.); S. (16mo; 17½ cm.); T. (24mo; 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo; 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo; 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights. Where figure instead of letter symbols are used, the record is from publisher's designation, and not measurement.

Imported books are marked with an asterisk; authors' and subscription books, or books published at net prices, with two asterisks; educational books published at "wholesale" prices, with a dagger.

American export trade guide for buyers in foreign countries; cont. an accurate list of American manufacturers, exporters and commission merchants, in all parts of the U. The Publishers' Weekly.

R. R. BOWKER, General Editor.

FEBRUARY 7, 1880.

PUBLISHERS are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry.

The trade are invited to send "Communications" to the editor on any topic of interest to the trade, and as to which an interchange of opinion is desirable. Also, matter for "Notes and Queries." Notes from librarians will also be gratefully received.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

SOME CASES IN POINT.

WE have had sent us recently several series of correspondence and instances in point, illustrating the grounds of complaint of the bookseller against the publisher. The printing of such correspondence itself, originally intended as private business letters, creates so much unnecessary ill-feeling, and is in other respects often so inadvisable, that we give the facts briefly by themselves. We should add that we are always glad to have such difficulties reported to us, because facts like these must ultimately produce their effect.

1. We mentioned recently the case of a costly educational work, newly issued by a leading house, of which certain booksellers in this city, dealing with many teachers, took a fair supply. They quoted them to teachers at publishers' net price, assuring these customers in all honesty that, since the discount was close, they could not be had at less at the publishers'. Several teachers went to the publishers, got their 10 per cent off, the same as the booksellers', and put the latter down in their minds as not truthful. The inference was fair; the publishers were responsible for putting a responsible and honest house in this position. The explanation from the publishers was that they gave no discount outside the trade on educational books, except to teachers and clergymen, at least a very large proportion of those who would buy this book at a bookstore. These booksellers have been forced to the conclusion that they must confine their stock to one copy of this book, and lose money when they sell that.

2. A religious publishing society, issuing many books itself and dealing in others, directly stated to other publishers, who were endeavoring to do the honest thing of pricing books at the amount for which they meant them to be sold, that it offered its own and all other books in its own store at 20 per cent off. What it did, of course, was to put a false price on its books for the purpose of taking off a fifth—which, to our mind, is not religious.

3. A college professor wrote to a leading house asking for their lowest prices on a certain book, to the trade, as his local booksellers bought for him. Their reply offered him the books at 40 off, but when the booksellers ordered them, they were billed at $\frac{1}{2}$. This particular case was the mistake of a clerk, but it is so very like what has happened on the other lists, that the booksellers were justified in regarding it as symptomatic. In other trades such information as to trade discounts would be courteously refused.

4. The correspondent who writes in another column sends us letters showing that a specified book was advertised, in a circular sent direct to college professors, as "reduced in price" to $3.50. The book was ordered by the local dealer for the professor through jobbers. The jobbers were charged by the publishers $3.34, and with their 5 per cent and postage added, the book cost the retailer $3.52. He lost the two cents, his three cent stamp, and the time, trouble and cost of the correspondence. The publisher, on being appealed to, explained that the "reduced" price was net, from which the trade discount was "special." Very "special," indeed!

Here are four transactions which have come to our knowledge inside of one month. We ask men of business who can think, to consider what it means. There is no other intelligent trade in the world that would do so foolish and wrong a thing. And all the time the same publishers are complaining that the retail trade carry and sell so few of their books. For not one of the publishers above cited deals exclusively or chiefly in educational books, and they all avowedly depend on the trade for most of their sales.

We are surprised, and we may say grieved, that our correspondent elsewhere, who is an old reader and staunch friend of the WEEKLY, can so mistake our position. The very article from which he quotes was a plea for the protection of retailers by honest prices with close discounts. There is no "if" about it; by "stiff prices" we mean that the publisher shall charge his own advertised price to outsiders, and we mean nothing else. That is the only method we can see for holding together any distributing system for the book trade. That the trade sales do not help to "stiffen prices and make prices closer" we have more than once somewhat strenuously suggested. The net system on school-books is already a farce, because the publisher is already trying to break it down with further discounts. But if the publisher will keep his word on that, and make his prices really net prices, with no discount except in quantities to the trade, there would be something of a chance for the retailer. Of course he must have more than five per cent. The educational publisher may prefer to get along without the bookseller, and waste his resources instead in buying in his rival's books, but the general publisher cannot afford to despise his best helper. He is already complaining of the decrease and decadence of bookstores; why will he not open his eyes to the cause?

THE delay in the issue of our last number was one of the inevitables. Important lists did not reach us until Saturday, and to finish, set, correct, and print a thirty-column index was a work that could not be put through more rapidly than it was done. If publishers' copy, for such numbers, could reach us promptly, the inevitable could be averted, but we presume that in the millennium the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY will not be needed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

STIFFER PRICES AND CLOSER DISCOUNTS.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., January 26, 1880.

A RECENT editorial in the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY concludes as follows:

"We would suggest [in place of raising the advertised retail prices of books to cover higher cost of manufacturing.—ED.] that the wiser plan would be to hold to the present prices, stiffen them up, and make discounts closer. It will not then be possible for undersellers to make the marked reduction they now offer from advertised prices, and the 'usual discounts' can with abundant reason be at least checked. We should be glad to hear from retailers themselves whether such a course would not, if they will think it out, promise direct benefit to them."

In answer to the above, I will suggest that you have a fair illustration of the workings of close discounts and low retail prices in the present school-book system. Ask any retail bookseller if he likes the change from the old system. In the correspondence and printed circular herewith enclosed (sent direct to my customer) you have an example of the tendency to "lower retail prices and stiffening discounts" (by taking the starch out of the retailer). You say that higher discounts offer temptation to undersellers. We are therefore to infer that the reverse policy would take the back-bone out of the underseller; but what if the underseller is the publisher himself or one of his special customers, large buyers like the American Book Exchange, or other parties who are flooding the country with their "marvellous offers."

To particularize: some time ago a large house cut down their discounts to twenty-five per cent on all orders less than $—, and, at the same time, professed to have lowered their retail prices (so they did to a very limited extent). Now, how did it benefit the retailer? Did that particular house send one book less to the trade sales to be sold at from forty per cent to anything off and go into the old hands to put against your twenty-five per cent and freight?

"Stiffen prices and make discounts closer" is a good idea for the publisher, no doubt, but I for one protest against the extension of a system of lowering discounts. Lower or stiffen prices as you see proper, but give us a chance. If it could be satisfactorily shown that the publisher would adhere strictly to retail prices to all outside of the trade, and would protect his goods and the trade proper (i.e., the distributing bookseller) from the book exchanges, book butchers, cheap Johns, etc., etc., I would then be instantly and unanimously in favor of low retail prices and close discounts.

POSTAL MATTERS.

MR. CHARLES HUTCHINS, General Business Agent of the A. B. C. F. M., has received the following decision from the Post-Office Department:

"All printed matter entitled to transmission in the United States domestic mails as 'second class' can be sent to the Hawaiian Kingdom at the rates of domestic postage prescribed by the Act of March 3, 1879, for second-class matter."

By this decision the postage on all American periodicals, when sent by the publishers to subscribers at the Sandwich Islands, will hereafter be two cents per pound. As publishers can only pay to San Francisco, the Hawaiian postage being paid at the Islands, this decision is evidently just.

BUSINESS NOTES.

BOSTON, MASS.—Nichols & Hall, booksellers, have dissolved partnership. Samuel F. Nichols & Co. will continue the business.

FAIRFIELD, IOWA.—D. W. Inghram, bookseller and stationer, has admitted A. G. Scranton as partner; style of firm hereafter will be Inghram & Scranton.

LANCASTER, PA.—H. M. Herr, bookseller and stationer, sold out to Luther & Fonder-smith.

NEWBURYPORT, MASS.—George W. Clark, bookseller and stationer, sold out to Henry Cook, Jr.

NEW YORK CITY.—The firm of paper dealers long known as Melvin Hard & Son, on account of the death of Mr. Melvin Hard, was dissolved. Messrs. Melvin T. Hard and Frank W. Hard will continue the business, under the name of Melvin Hard's Sons.

STEUBENVILLE, O.—Kennedy Crumrine has taken J. H. Timberlake into partnership in his book and stationery business, the new firm going under the name of Crumrine & Timberlake. Mr. Timberlake has been in the employ of Mr. Crumrine ever since he commenced business in Steubenville, in December, 1872. The new arrangement went into effect January 30th.

PERSONAL MENTION.

MR. T. G. DE MOTTE assumes the management of the New York office, at 805 Broadway, of Messrs. John Church & Co., of Cincinnati, in the position made vacant by Mr. Henry G. Sumner's return to Chicago as a publisher. Mr. De Motte, with long experience as chief clerk for the Peters and Ditson houses, brings a full knowledge of the business to the service of the trade in his new position, and we wish him every success.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THE attention of the trade is particularly called to two special offers advertised in this issue, of school-books at very low rates, by John R. Anderson, and of stereotype plates, by T. B. Peterson & Bros.

"UARDA," one of those brilliant novels of old Egyptian life with which the great Egyptologist, George Ebers, has amused his leisure and delighted many readers, is issued in a very cheap edition by W. S. Gottsberger, New York, whom the trade should honor with their orders.

MARCUS WARD & CO. are being hard pushed by the rush for valentines. They hope to fill all orders as rapidly as they come in, but if they continue to come in as they have for the past few days, the stock will soon be exhausted. Their new styles this year are many, and the designs are exquisitely chaste and beautiful.

I. K. FUNK & CO., New York, issue the first of a new Standard Series, in which they propose to present a line of works most acceptable to the public, and not yet published in cheap shape. Spurgeon's "John Ploughman's Talk," and Carlyle "On the Choice of Books," issued together under manila card covers, for 12 cents, make the initial book of the series.

PETER PAUL & BRO., Buffalo, will publish next week a volume of addresses, speeches, and miscellanies delivered by James O. Putnam on various occasions from 1854 to 1859. The volume will contain Putnam's famous speech, delivered in the State Senate, 1855, on the Church Property Bill, which attracted such wide attention at the time, the American and Foreign Christian Union, of New York City, issuing 20,000 copies of it in pamphlet form.

D. APPLETON & CO. issue this week the second volume of the "Memoirs of Mme. de Rémusat," in the neat 12mo fifty cent edition which they print, announcing the concluding part to speedily follow; a valuable and timely treatise on "The Financial History of the United States," by Albert S. Bolles, a well-known writer on economics, who covers in this first volume the Revolutionary period, 1775-'89; an extraordinary two-volume work on "Mind in the Lower Animals, in Health and Disease," in which Dr. W. Lander Lindsay, an English physician and scientist, discusses the "alleged superiority" of man, and presents numerous facts suggesting the existence of various mental powers in the brutes; John Foster's "Life of Dickens," fully illustrated, filling out the Chapman & Hall Household edition, in large square octavo, of the great novelist; a new novel, "The Seamy Side," by Besant and Rice; and a school-book of "Chemical Exercises in Quantitative Analysis," by Prof. Rains, of Georgia.

W. F. DRAPER, Andover, has nearly ready a book on "The Logic of Christian Evidences," by Rev. G. Frederick Wright, of Andover, which is likely to command an unusual degree of attention. Mr. Wright is an able geologist and was one of the writers of the celebrated review of Joseph Cook's "Biology" in the New Englander. He is a Darwinian evolutionist, and his book, which will be useful for Christian study, will be of general interest as showing why a scientific man should believe in Christianity.

ROBERT CARTER & BROS. will issue this month a new and very charming story of Queen Anne's time, "The Maiden's Lodge," by Miss Holt, the graceful writer of "Isoult Barry;" new children's stories by Mrs. Charlesworth, "The Broken Looking-glass," and by L. T. Meade, "The Children's Kingdom;" pleasant "Stories of the Cathedral Cities of England," and some smaller books, by Emma Marshall; a narrative of religious personal experience, "The Kingdom," by Christian Rexford; and a little book for mothers on the religious and home education of "A Child," by Mrs. Umphelby.

CHAS. SCRIBNER'S SONS will issue presently the volume of religious papers on "Faith and Character," by Rev. Martin R. Vincent, D.D., full of freshness and vigor. A volume of essays on the antagonisms of scientific and religious thought, by Professor Asa Gray, of Harvard, is also in advanced preparation. The second volume of "The Speaker's Commentary" will cover St. John and Acts. Its strength lies largely in the treatment of the former, which occupies the greater portion of the book, and is done by Canon Westcott, of Cambridge. Canon Cook, of Exeter, has prepared the division on Acts.

D. LOTHROP & CO. have now ready for publication "Our Streets," a new story by Mrs. S. R. Graham Clarke, author of "Yensie Walton;" "Onward to the Heights of Life," by Mrs. C. L. Morse, a Canadian author; and, as already noted, "How to Conduct a Prayer-Meeting," by Rev. L. O. Thompson, with an introduction by Rev. Dr. J. H. Vincent, head of the Chautauqua Summer Institute; and "Cheerful Words," selected from the writings of George Macdonald, and prefaced with a biographical sketch of this delightful writer, and with an introduction by Mr. James T. Fields, one of his warmest admirers as well as a personal friend.

JAS. G. KENT & CO., 21 Park Row, New York, have just ready the "American Export Trade Guide, for buyers in foreign countries, 1879-'80," making a handy volume of 300 pages, bound in flexible leather. It contains, in connection with numerous advertising pages representing leading American houses in all branches of manufactures, a list of a thousand export commission merchants and brokers in New York, Boston, Philadelphia & Baltimore, with the lines of goods bought and the countries bought for; a list of American manufacturers indexed under the articles which they make; lists of foreign steamship and sailing lines and express companies; a comparative table of export statistics and compact maps of the business portions of New York, Boston and Philadelphia. The guide will be very useful to those seeking channels for the disposal of goods abroad.

THE Boston Transcript of Jan. 22d contained an interesting paper on "Booksellers and Bookselling," chiefly with reference to H. G. Bohn and J. C. Hotten, from the pen of Mr. J. G. Cupples.

JOHN WILEY & SONS have in preparation a new book on "Thermo-Dynamics," by A. J. Du Bois, and a "Geometry," by Prof. Cokely, of the New York University, assisted by Walter Le Conte Stevens, of the Cooper Union.

R. WORTHINGTON, the publisher of Dr. Punshon's works, proposes a volume to contain his "Four Discourses on the Prodigal Son," his lecture on John Bunyan, and other papers, with a preface from the late Bishop Gilbert Haven.

A VOLUME ON "The Science of English Verse," by Sidney Lanier, the poet of the Centennial ode, is in press at Chas. Scribner's Sons', which will be interesting as presenting some novel views of the construction of English poetry, which has been a favorite study with Mr. Lanier.

ROBERT CARTER & BROS. have in prospect, besides other books previously announced, a volume called "The Interpreter's House," by Rev. W. W. Newton, and two pleasant stories, "How a Farthing Made a Fortune," by Mrs. Bowan, and "Muriel Bertram," by Agnes Giberne.

THE new volume on Washington Irving to be issued by G. P. Putnam's Sons will include not only Charles Dudley Warner's essay (to appear in the next Atlantic), but also the paper reprinted from The Atlantic for November, 1860, of personal reminiscences of Irving by Mr. G. P. Putnam, his publisher and life-long friend, and the oration on Irving delivered by William Cullen Bryant in April, 1860.

DODD, MEAD & CO. have in press for early issue a book on Alaska by Rev. Sheldon Jackson, a Presbyterian missionary whose work brought him to that field. There will be upward of a hundred illustrations. Rev. E. P. Roe's "Success with Small Fruits," reworked from the papers in Scribner's, with all the beautiful illustrations of the Monthly, will be another spring book, and one of the finest of the season.

THE "Cyclopædia of British Poetry," which Mr. Epes Sargent is editing for Harper & Brothers, will contain a thousand pages or more. Thus far Mr. Sargent has read the proofs of about 150 pages. In reply to a question, he writes that great pains are being taken to make the work accurate as well as comprehensive, and to give the best specimens of all the poets represented. "Justice," he says, "will be done to the obscure 'minor poets' who have produced one or two great lyrical pieces which the world does not willingly let die."—Tribune.

THOMAS Y. CROWELL

Has the pleasure of announcing that he has now ready for publication (by arrangement with A. C. Armstrong & Son),

A NEW UNABRIDGED EDITION OF HALLAM'S WORKS,

COMPRISING

THE CONSTITUTIONAL HISTORY OF ENGLAND, - - - 2 Vols.
THE MIDDLE AGES—The State of Europe during the Middle Ages, - 2 Vols.
INTRODUCTION TO THE LITERATURE OF EUROPE, - - - 2 Vols.

This new issue of HALLAM'S COMPLETE WORKS, reprinted FROM THE LAST LONDON EDITION, REVISED AND CORRECTED BY THE AUTHOR, is the most accurate and reliable edition published.

We cannot better introduce it in this form to the American Public than by the quotation of MACAULAY'S FAMOUS ESTIMATE of their author :

"Mr. Hallam is, on the whole, far better qualified than any other writer of our time for the office which he has undertaken. He has great industry and great acuteness. His knowledge is extensive, various, and profound. His mind is equally distinguished by the amplitude of its grasp, and by the delicacy of its tact. His speculations have none of that vagueness which is the common fault of political philosophy. On the contrary, they are strikingly practical, and teach us not only the general rule, but the mode of applying it to solve particular cases. . . . Mr. Hallam's work is eminently judicial. Its whole spirit is that of the Bench, not that of the Bar. He sums up with a calm, steady impartiality, turning neither to the right nor to the left, glossing over nothing, exaggerating nothing, while the advocates on both sides are alternately biting their lips to hear their conflicting misstatements and sophism exposed."

As this "STANDARD EDITION" of HALLAM'S WORKS, in Six Vols., AVERAGING NEARLY 800 PAGES IN EACH VOL., is sold at the EXCEEDINGLY LOW PRICE OF $7.50 PER SET (formerly published in 10 Vols. at $17.50), the Publishers confidently believe IT WILL HAVE A LARGE AND STEADY SALE.

I.

SECOND VOLUME OF THE MEMOIRS OF MADAME DE RÉMUSAT.

The Memoirs of Madame de Rémusat, 1802-1808.

With a Preface and Notes by her Grandson, PAUL DE RÉMUSAT. In three volumes. Volume II., 8vo, paper. Price, 50 cents. (Volume III. is in press, and will follow shortly.)

"These memoirs are not only a repository of anecdotes and of portraits sketched from life by a keen-eyed, quick-witted woman, some of the author's reflections on social and political questions being remarkable for weight and penetration."—New York Sun.

"In appreciating the character and the policy of the most remarkable man of modern times, MADAME DE RÉMUSAT is likely to remain one of the principal authorities."—London Athenæum.

II.

Mind in the Lower Animals, in Health and Disease.

By W. LAUDER LINDSAY, M.D., F.R.S.E., etc. In two vols., 8vo, cloth. Price, $4.

"I have studied the subject of mind in other animals, as compared with that of man, for a series of years, simply as a physician-naturalist. . . . Regarding the whole subject of mind in animals from a medical and natural-history point of view, I have studied it from first to last without any preconceived ideas, with no theory to defend, support, or illustrate. . . . All that I attempt is to outline the subject of mind in the lower animals, to illustrate their possession of the higher mental faculties as they occur in man."—Extract from Introduction.

III.

Forster's Life of Charles Dickens.

THE LIFE OF CHARLES DICKENS. By JOHN FORSTER. Forming the concluding volume of CHAPMAN & HALL's Household Edition of the Works of CHARLES DICKENS. With Forty Illustrations. Square 8vo. Price, in cloth, $1.75; paper cover, $1.25.

JUST READY !

*"Ouida's" New Novel.—A Powerful Society Story.MOTHS.

By "OUIDA," author of "Granville de Vigne," "Idalia," "Strathmore," "Under Two Flags," "Puek," etc. 12mo, 525 pages, extra cloth, $1.25.

"Moths" is decidedly the most interesting story that "Ouida" has written for some years. In the development of an absorbing plot she displays in an eminent degree that rare power which characterizes all her writings.

*Mrs. Hooper's New Book.UNDER THE TRICOLOR;

Or, The American Colony in Paris. A Novel. By LUCY HAMILTON HOOPER. 12mo, fine cloth, $1.25.

"Mrs. Hooper never writes otherwise than well, and everything she gives to the public is worth reading. 'Under the Tricolor,' therefore, could not be otherwise than interesting. It is, however, more than that. It is a really superb romance, in which the critic can scarcely find a flaw. Admirable in plot, character, sketching, dialogue and description, it cannot fail to find marked favor with all who read it."—Philadelphia Chronicle Herald.

CAMP and CABIN:

Sketches of Life and Travel in the West.

BY

ROSSITER W. RAYMOND,

Late U. S. Commissioner of Mining Statistics; Editor Engineering and Mining Journal; Author "Mines of the West," "Silver and Gold," "Brave Hearts," "Man in the Moon," etc., etc.

The Sketches of life in California and Nevada are capital stories, alive with fun, full of incidental suggestion and information about the main business of life out there, and fairly permeated with the flavor of the humorous, reckless, good-natured, but dead-earnest kind of existence of the mining camps and cabins.

"Mr. Raymond's ten years as United States Mining Commissioner gave him free range among peaks and canyons, valleys and 'slopes,' from the Rocky Mountains to the Pacific, and his keen eye and witty pen have made brilliant use of this opportunity."—Cleveland (O.) Leader.

By GEORGE F. ROOT,

Leads all improvements in the art of Music Teaching.

It goes to work on the plan that pupils should not be made to pursue their studies in the tedious, mechanical methods, which, while making the fingers supple, dwarf and warp the mental faculties. The "MUSICAL CURRICULUM" early opens up the beauties of the theory of music, and gives the pupil glimpses of the science, while it teaches the art. The gradual development of the subject is fascinating; at every step something is gained, and that something is clearly defined and exemplified. Whatever is of an abstract nature is continually relieved by the introduction of pleasing exercises or songs, which, while constantly progressing, furnish, also, agreeable relaxation.

Give the "Musical Curriculum" a careful examination.

UARDA:

A ROMANCE OF ANCIENT EGYPT.

By GEORG EBERS.

In Two Vols. Price, in paper cover, 70c. per set; in cloth binding, $1.50 per set.

"UARDA' belongs to the most important productions of modern, nay of all German works of fiction taken together. The accurate and minute knowledge of the life of the ancient Egyptians, of their architectural and other works of art, as well as of their poetry, gives evidence of the profound and extensive study of the author, at the same time conferring on the work a great historical value."—Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung.
